Assessment of proposals

Proposals will be considered by the Refinery ArtSpace Program Selection Panel, which is appointed by Arts Council Nelson.

In recognition of the demand on space availability and the aspiration for the programme, the Refinery ArtSpace does not guarantee that all proposals received will be included in the programme. Proposals may be declined for a variety of reasons, and are not necessarily a reflection of the quality of the project.

Assessment criteria

In making a decision the Refinery ArtSpace Program Selection Panel will take into consideration the following assessment criteria:

- whether the proposal will engage and expand audiences, and enriches creative response and critical discourse within our community;
- the quality/philosophy of the ideas that underpin the proposal;
- whether the proposal is unique and has a fresh approach, i.e. proposed work not recently exhibited within the Nelson and Tasman region;
- whether the proposal is achievable and likely to be realised;
- whether the proposal has adequate resources to ensure successful development
- or is likely to secure resources and can be considered on a 'subject to funding' basis. [Arts Council Nelson staff may be able to assist with the latter].
